Have your say on NHS skin care services

Tell us what you think about using photos to check skin problems.

Your local NHS is looking at how photos could be used to help check skin problems. A doctor or nurse will look at the photos. This will help them decide what care you need.

We want to know what people think of this. Answer our short survey to tell us what you think.

We want to know what matters to you, including:

- How you feel about the NHS using photos
- How we should keep your photos safe and private
- What help and information you need
- If you want another way to get care
- When you should see a doctor or nurse in person
